Welcome to Berlin! We are delighted you have decided to make your home in our town. As you become familiar with your new community, we hope you will become an active participant in city affairs, by voting in local elections, attending our council meetings, or by volunteering your services here in our city.

We believe you will find Berlin a wonderful place to live and raise a family; we have several churches, a volunteer fire department, and youth center for the kids. We have a dedicated Police Department to protect and serve our citizens, and we here at City Hall will answer any questions you may have to the best of our abilities. Please take a moment to go through this for important information and contacts for the City. Again we want to welcome you here and hope you will stay with us for years to come.
